

Amelia R. Brown (UQ) administered the ASCS Translation Contest for 2019.

There were 10 entrants for the ASCS Latin contest, and they came from Sydney (6), Melbourne (2) and UQ (2). The passage was Horace Satires 1.9.1-19, set and judged by Jane Bellemore (Newcastle).

The Winner was judged to be Janek Drevikovsky from Sydney University (3rd year, 2nd semester), studying Latin with Paul Roche.

The Honourable Mentions were:

-Patrick Ryan from Sydney University (2nd year, 2nd semester), studying Latin with Robert Cowan.

-Clare Pryor from Sydney University (2nd year, 2nd semester), studying Latin with Robert Cowan.

There were 10 entrants for the ASCS Greek contest, and they came from Sydney (4), ANU (2), Melbourne (1) and UQ (3). The passage was Medea 465-485, and it was set by Amelia Brown and judged by John Davidson (VUW).

The Greek Winner was judged to be Patrick Ryan from Sydney University (2nd year, 2nd semester), studying Greek with Tamara Neal.

The Greek Honourable Mentions were:

-Janek Drevikovsky from Sydney University (3rd year, 2nd semester), studying Greek with Eric Csapo.

-Liam Maldoni of the Australian National University (2nd year, 2nd semester), studying Greek with Sonia Pertsinidis.

Respectfully submitted,
Amelia Brown
30 January 2019